This equivalent has no relative form of value in common with other commodities, but its value is relatively expressed by a never ending series of other commodities. The opposition or contrast existing internally in each commodity between use value and value, is, therefore, made evident externally by two commodities being placed in such relation to each other, that the commodity whose value it is sought to express, figures directly as a mere use value, while the commodity Commons = commons + communities which that value is to be expressed, figures directly as mere exchange value. This is the case whenever its utility to man is not due to labour.
